

DISCIPLINARY MEASURES POLICY

In the event that a complaint has been made against another player, the Rules Official in Charge (ROC) must advise:

- the Tournament Director and/or
- the Disciplinary Committee
- the player, immediately after the round where the Rules or etiquette breach occurred. The player must be informed of the facts that have been reported against him, along with the official complaint. This will enable him to respond and hopefully settle the matter.

Depending on the breach, the player may receive one or multiple warnings (as specified on the Notice to all Competitors, and on the Standard Local Rules).

In the event that the matter is not settled, and when a concerned player's file is well documented, the Tournament Director and/or the ROC, is to submit the file to the Disciplinary Committee. The recommendations will be based on a number of factors, including the offence itself, the frequency of the problem and on past decisions made in similar cases. The Disciplinary Committee will review, discuss and / or modify their recommendation for submission to the Executive Committee for final approval.

The Disciplinary Committee will submit its final decision on the disciplinary measures needed to be taken and on the conditions of the suspension.

Golf Québec will send a formal letter to the player to inform him of the decision of the Disciplinary Committee and indicate the duration of the penalty and specify the reinstatement conditions to the tournament tour after his suspension.

A copy of each decision taken by the Disciplinary Committee will be sent to the Executive Director and the Rules Committee President.
