

BEFORE REGISTRATION

Before registering for a regional or provincial competition, you must be a member of Golf Québec / Golf Canada.

If you do not already have a membership, and depending on your situation, you must follow the steps below to obtain one:

You are a member of a golf club:

You can request a membership directly from your club. At some golf clubs, you automatically pay for your Golf Québec/Golf Canada membership when you pay for your membership card at the club. You'll need to ask your club whether or not you already have a membership. Your club will then give you your 10-digit membership number, which is often starting with "610...".

You are a member of a club, but have changed golf clubs in between seasons:

If you have changed golf clubs between two seasons and already have a membership, you must ask the golf club where you are a new member to transfer your Golf Québec/Golf Canada membership number. Your golf club will transfer your old number to its database.

When you purchase a new membership through the golf club where you are a member, your club must include your e-mail address in your membership profile. You can access your profile through the Golf Canada Score Centre on the Internet or the Golf Canada mobile app on your smart phone*.

You are not a member of a golf club:

If you are not a member of a golf club and have never had a Golf Québec/Golf Canada membership before, you must purchase an annual membership named "Golfeur/Golfeuse public" on the Golf Québec website. If you already had a Public Golfer membership, you must renew your membership through your online profile. You do not need to purchase a new membership.

If you already have a Golf Québec/Golf Canada membership but it has expired: log in to your account on the Golf Canada Score Centre and click on the renewal option. Alternatively, your golf club can do this at the beginning of the season.

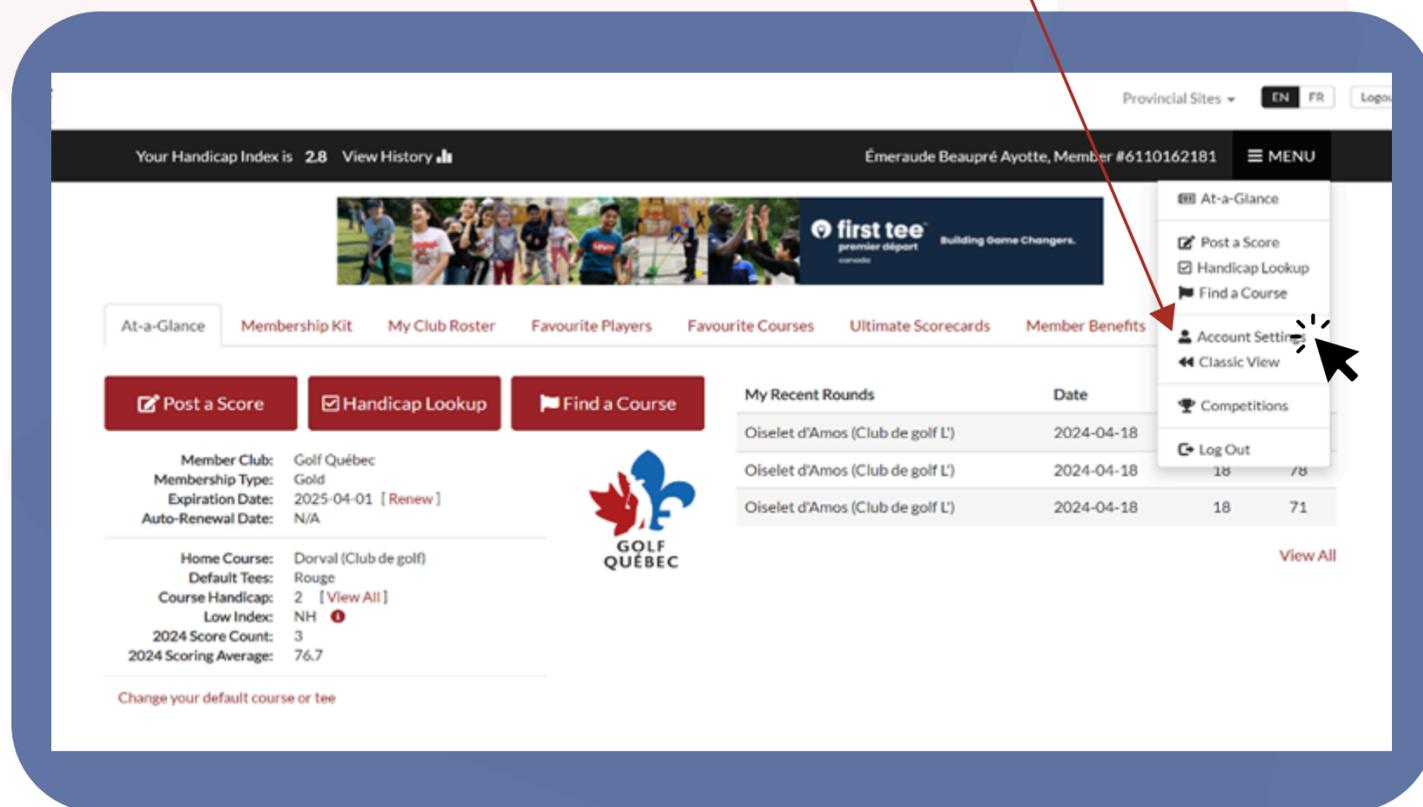

IT IS CRUCIAL THAT YOU DO NOT TAKE OUT AN ADDITIONAL MEMBERSHIP. IF YOU TAKE OUT AN ADDITIONAL MEMBERSHIP, OR IF YOUR GOLF CLUB DOES IT FOR YOU, YOU'LL HAVE TWO PROFILES IN OUR DATABASE AND YOU'LL RUN INTO PROBLEMS WHEN YOU REGISTER.

If you are not receiving e-mail from Golf Canada, it is because your e-mail address is not in your profile.

To resolve this situation, you need to ask your golf club to put your e-mail address in your profile. If your club can't help, you can write to Golf Québec's member services department at services@golfquebec.org.
